Hannah Blackadar, Grade 8 - Project 351 Ambassador

HOLTEN RICHMOND STUDENT LEADS PJ COLLECTION FOR CRADLES TO CRAYONS

8th grader Hannah Blackadar has been selected as a Project 351 Ambassador & is leading service projects at HRMS

Project 351 is a volunteer organization that selects one middle school student from each of the 351 towns in MA every year. This year, we congratulate Hannah Blackadar on being chosen to represent Danvers in Project 351's "Class of 2020".

Hannah attended the Launch Day in Boston, which was also attended by Gov. Charlie Baker, Lisa Hughes from WBZ-TV, and Devin McCourty from the New England Patriots!

As part of Hannah's year long service and volunteer work for Project 351, she is gathering donations for the Boston

Bruins 13th Annual PJ Drive, Cradles to Crayons. You can stop by Holten Richmond Middle School and contribute to the donation box, now through March! Hannah says:

"The launch day was exciting and I made a lot of good friends that all have the same purpose and intentions as me. I am excited to plan and work with kids across the state for this fundraiser and our next one in the spring."

Stay tuned for more service projects led by Hannah!
